FROM: THEODORE H. KATZ, UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE.
TO: HON. ROBERT P. PATTERSON, UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE.

This action arises under Sections 553 and 605 of the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984 ("the Communications Act"). Plaintiff J & J Sports Productions ("Plaintiff") alleges that Defendants Maria Rojas and Juana Garcia ("Rojas and Garcia") and Maria & Victor Salon Unisex (the "Salon") violated the Communications Act by unlawfully intercepting and displaying a telecast for which Plaintiff had exclusive distribution rights. Plaintiff further alleges that Rojas and Garcia and the Salon (collectively "Defendants") violated the Communications Act by knowingly modifying a device for the primary use of the unauthorized decryption of satellite cable programming, including the transmission for which Plaintiff had distribution rights. After a default judgment was entered against Defendants, based on their failure to file an answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint, the action was referred to this Court for an inquest on damages. Pursuant to the Court's directive, Plaintiff submitted an affidavit and other documentation to establish a factual basis for, and the legal authority in support of, its request for damages, to which Defendants were given an opportunity to respond. Defendants failed to file any response or objections.

For the reasons that follow, this Court recommends that a default judgment be entered against Defendants, jointly and severally, for statutory damages in the amount of $6,000, attorneys' fees in the amount of $874, and costs in the amount of $550.

DISCUSSION

I. Legal Standards

Upon the default of a party, a court must accept all factual allegations of the complaint as true, except those relating to damages. See Transatlantic Marine Claims Agency, Inc. v. Ace Shipping Corp., 109 F.3d 105, 108 (2d Cir. 1997); Cotton v. Slone, 4 F.3d 176, 181 (2d Cir. 1993); Au Bon Pain Corp. v. ArTECT, Inc., 653 F.2d 61, 65 (2d Cir. 1981). A default judgment that is entered on the well-pleaded allegations in a complaint establishes a defendant's liability, see Bambu Sales, Inc. v. Ozak Trading Inc., 58 F.3d 849, 854 (2d Cir. 1995); S.E.C. v. Mgmt. Dynamics, Inc., 515 F.2d 801, 814 (2d Cir. 1975), and the sole issue that remains before the court is whether the plaintiff has provided adequate support for the relief it seeks. See Credit Lyonnais Sec. (USA), Inc. v. Alcantara, 183 F.3d 151, 155 (2d Cir. 1999); Greyhound Exhibitgroup, Inc. v. E.L.U.L. Realty Corp., 973 F.2d 155, 158 (2d Cir. 1992); see also Deshmukh v. Cook, 630 F. Supp. 956, 959 (S.D.N.Y. 1986) (when a defendant defaults, "the factual allegations of the complaint relating to liability are taken as true, but the allegations relating to the amount of damages are not"). A court may determine the appropriate damages on the basis of affidavits and other documentary evidence, "as long as [the Court has] ensured that there [is] a basis for the damages specified in the default judgment." Transatlantic Marine, 109 F.3d at 111 (quoting Fustok v. ContiCommodity Servs., Inc., 873 F.2d 38, 40 (2d Cir. 1989)).

II. Established Facts and Liability

As a result of Defendants' default, the following facts in the Complaint are deemed admitted and establish Defendants' liability under the Communications Act.

Plaintiff held the exclusive right in New York to distribute the May 6, 2006 De La Hoya/Mayorga Boxing Program ("the Fight") via closed circuit television and satellite television. (See Complaint ("Compl.") ¶ 16; see also Plaintiff's Memorandum of Law ("Pl.'s Mem."), at 2.)¹ Plaintiff subsequently entered into agreements with business establishments throughout New York State, permitting them to exhibit the Fight to their customers for a fee. (See Compl. ¶ 17; see also Affidavit of Joseph Gagliardi, dated May 8, 2007, ("Gagliardi Aff.") ¶ 3.) In order to protect its exclusive right to distribute the Fight, Plaintiff hired independent auditors to investigate business establishments that exhibited the Fight without Plaintiff's permission. (See Gagliardi Aff. ¶ 4.)

On the night of the Fight, one of Plaintiff's auditors entered the Salon, a beauty salon with an estimated capacity of 30 persons; the auditor did not pay a cover charge and observed a television showing the Fight to approximately nine patrons. (See id. ¶ 7 & Exhibit ("Ex.") C.) Defendants did not receive Plaintiff's permission to exhibit the Fight. (See id. ¶¶ 6, 8; Compl. ¶ 19.) Defendants' ability to exhibit the Fight was made possible by its unlawful interception, reception, or de-scrambling of the transmission, aided by Defendants' modification of a device to do the same.² (See Compl. ¶ 20.)

² Plaintiff also asserts that the Fight cannot be "mistakenly or innocently intercepted." (Gagliardi Aff. ¶ 9.) Some methods Defendants may have used to secure access to the

These facts establish Defendants' liability for the following violations of the Communications Act. Section 605(a) prohibits the unauthorized interception of radio communications. See 47 U.S.C. § 605(a).³ Subsection 605(e)(4) prohibits the use of equipment for the purpose of unauthorized decryption of satellite cable programming in addition to any radio communications covered by Section 605(a). See 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(4).⁴ Section 553(a)(1) prohibits the unauthorized interception or receipt of cable programming. See 47 U.S.C. § 553(a)(1).⁵

Fight include: the use of a "black box" to de-scramble the coded transmission, purposeful misrepresentation of the Salon as a residential property (to allow for the purchase of the Fight at the significantly lower residential price), or illegally splitting the cable feed from an adjacent premise which lawfully obtained the Fight. (See id.)

⁴ Subsection 605(e)(4) reads: "Any person who manufactures, assembles, modifies, . . . sells, or distributes any electronic, mechanical or other device or equipment, knowing or having reason to know that the device or equipment is primarily of assistance in the unauthorized decryption of satellite cable programming, or direct-to-home satellite services, or is intended for any other activity prohibited by subsection (a) [of this section], shall be fined . . ." 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(4).

These provisions prohibit the unauthorized interception and reception of cable programming services, such as Plaintiff's telecast, which originate from and are delivered either via satellite or another form of over-the-air transmission. See Time Warner Cable of New York City v. Barnes, 13 F. Supp. 2d 543, 547-48 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (citing Int'l Cablevision, Inc. v. Sykes and Noel, 75 F.3d 123, 133 (2d Cir. 1996) ("Sykes II")); Cablevision Sys. New York City Corp. v. Lokshin, 980 F. Supp. 107, 112 (E.D.N.Y. 1997).⁶

III. Damages

In order to collect damages under the above statutes, a plaintiff must be an "aggrieved person" within the meaning of 47 U.S.C. §§ 553(c)(1) or 605(e)(3)(A). Plaintiff's possession of proprietary rights to the unlawfully intercepted Fight satisfies this standard under both statutes. See, e.g., Joe Hand Promotions, Inc. v. Fofana, No. 06 Civ. 2099 (RJH), 2007 WL 2298372, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 2, 2007). When a defendant has been found to have violated both Sections 553 and 605 of the Communications Act, the plaintiff may elect to recover either actual or statutory damages under either, but not both, of those statutes. See Cnty.

specifically authorized by law." 47 U.S.C. § 553(a)(1).

Television Sys. v. Caruso, 284 F.3d 430, 435 (2d Cir. 2002); see also Sykes II, 75 F.3d at 129; Int'l Cablevision v. Sykes, 997 F.2d 998, 1009 (2d Cir. 1993) ("Sykes I"); Garden City Boxing Club, Inc. v. Polanco, No. 05 Civ. 3411 (DC), 2006 WL 305458, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 7, 2006); Garden City Boxing Club, Inc. v. Salcedo, No. 04 Civ. 5027 (DFE), 2005 WL 2898233, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 3, 2005); Cablevision Sys. New York City Corp. v. Landron, No. 02 Civ. 2957 (LAK), 2003 WL 430347, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 21, 2003); Cablevision Sys. New York City Corp. v. Miller, No. 01 Civ. 4355 (LLS) (FM), 2002 WL 1966941, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. July 23, 2002) (Report and Recommendation, adopted on Aug. 5, 2002).

In the instant case, Plaintiff has elected to recover statutory damages under 47 U.S.C. § 605. Under that section, this Court may award statutory damages for violations, "in a sum of not less than $1,000 or more than $10,000, as the court considers just" 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(3)(C)(i)(II). This Court may also award additional, "enhanced" damages by an amount of not more than $100,000 for violations committed "willfully and for purposes of direct or indirect commercial advantage or private financial gain" 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(3)(C)(ii); see also Cmty Television Sys., 284 F.3d at 434.

Willfulness in this context can be demonstrated by a defendant's engaging in the affirmative act of installing and utilizing a "pirate" descrambler or some other device in order to illegally receive a transmission. See Lokshin, 980 F. Supp. at 114 (noting that the defendant's "conduct undoubtedly was willful since he took measures to purchase and install an unauthorized descrambler"); Time Warner Cable v. Taco Rapido Rest., 988 F. Supp. 107, 111 (E.D.N.Y. 1997) (regarding defendant's conduct as willful because "[i]n order for [defendant] to receive the closed-circuit broadcast, it had to have engaged in some deliberate act, such as using an unauthorized decoder or altering the cable service in some way so as to receive and view the scrambled transmission"). Furthermore, courts in this Circuit have concluded that a defendant's "default itself could further be viewed as evidence of willfulness." Lokshin, 980 F. Supp. at 114 (citing Fallaci v. New Gazette Literary Corp., 568 F. Supp. 1172, 1173 (S.D.N.Y. 1983)); but see Kingvision Pay-Per-View, Ltd. v. Langthorne, No. 01-11079-NG, 2001 WL 1609366, at *1 (D. Mass. Nov. 28, 2001) (while some courts have upheld the notion that the default judgment "automatically gives rise to an 'inference of willfulness' on their part . . . [t]he federal courts have actually split on the availability of such an inference").

In the instant case, Plaintiff seeks statutory damages of $10,000, and enhanced damages of $100,000 against each Defendant. (See Pl.'s Mem., at 8.) Regarding the base statutory penalty, Plaintiff contends that "requiring the offending establishment to pay the price it would have paid had it legally contracted to exhibit the event" would do nothing to deter future piracy. (Id. at 7.)

Regarding enhanced damages, Plaintiff contends that Defendants' probable repeat offenses, commercial gain from an increase in patrons, and failure to respond to the lawsuit, which prevented Plaintiff from determining how many additional events Defendants may have stolen, militate in favor of awarding the maximum amount of $100,000. (See id. at 3, 6-7, 8.) Plaintiff also notes that such acts of signal piracy have cost it "millions of dollars," which have resulted in higher costs for lawful customers. (Gagliardi Aff. ¶¶ 14-15.)

Although there is no precision with which statutory damages can be determined in a case such as this, there should be some proportionality between the loss suffered and the amount of damages, in addition to factoring in such concerns as the potential loss of confidence by businesses in distributing Plaintiff's telecast if unlawful access and the associated lost revenue is not effectively deterred. Some courts in the Second Circuit have awarded damages based on the number of patrons in the establishment at the time of the violation, often increasing the award to further penalize willful violators and to deter future violations. See, e.g., Garden City Boxing Club, 2005 WL 2898233, at *2-3 (awarding the plaintiff $250 per patron, though acknowledging judicial acceptance of the $300 per patron rate); New Contenders, Inc. v. Diaz Seafood Corp.,

No. 96 Civ. 4701 (AGS) (HP), 1997 WL 538827, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 2, 1997) (awarding $300 per patron, taking into account defendant's profits from the sale of food and drink); Kingvision Pay-Per-View Ltd. v. Autar, 426 F. Supp. 2d 59, 63 (E.D.N.Y. 2006) (noting that decisions contain a range of from $20 to $300 per patron penalties, but ultimately awarding $50 per patron); Time Warner Cable v. Googies Luncheonette, 77 F. Supp. 2d 485, 490 (S.D.N.Y. 1999) (awarding $50 per patron plus an enhancement for the willful nature of the violation in light of "uncontradicted evidence of the number of patrons viewing the event"); Joe Hand Promotions, Inc. v. Marius, No. 05 Civ. 8472 (DAB) (THK), 2007 WL 2351065, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. July 3, 2007) (awarding $50 per patron plus a $7,500 enhancement); King Vision Pay-Per-View Corp. v. Clonback, Inc., 06 Civ. 9771 (LMM) (THK) (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 26, 2004), (Not Reported) (awarding $100 per patron in addition to the fee the defendants would have had to pay to lawfully televise the unlawfully intercepted event in their commercial establishment).

Other courts have awarded a flat amount in damages. See, e.g., King Vision Pay-Per-View Corp., Ltd. v. Tardes Calenas Moscoro, No. 01 Civ. 9775 (JGK) (JCF), 2004 WL 473306, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 12, 2004) (recommending award of $5,000 in statutory damages and enhancing it by an additional $5000 for willful conduct); Joe Hand Promotions, Inc. v. Soto, No. 01 Civ. 0329 (GBD) (AJP), 2003 WL 22962810, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 17, 2003) (recommending $10,000 in statutory damages and doubling the award for willful conduct); King Vision Pay-Per-View, Ltd. v. Recio, No. 02 Civ. 6583 (JSM) (RLE), 2003 WL 21383826, at *4-5 (S.D.N.Y. June 11, 2003) (recommending award of $1,000 in statutory damages, with a $4,000 enhancement for willful conduct); King Vision Pay-Per-View Corp. v. Papacito Lidia Luncheonette, Inc., No. 01 Civ. 7575 (LAK) (AJP), 2001 WL 1558269, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 6, 2001) (awarding $20,000 to plaintiff when defendant restaurant illegally intercepted and displayed a pay-per-view boxing match to 10 to 15 customers); Kingvision Pay-Per-View, Ltd. Corp. v. New Paradise Rest., No. 99 Civ. 10020 (WHP) (AJP), 2000 WL 378053, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 11, 2000) (awarding $20,000 when defendant restaurant intercepted and displayed a boxing match to 12 patrons).

Other courts have simply awarded the maximum statutory rate when a precise amount of actual damages based on usage could not be ascertained. See, e.g., Cablevision of New York City Corp. v. Flores, No. 00 Civ. 5935 (GEL) (GWG), 2001 WL 761085, at *3-4 (S.D.N.Y. July 6, 2001) (holding that the full statutory amount is appropriate because defendant's conduct was willful, such an award would have a large deterrent effect, and "[b]ecause of the defendant's failure to answer the complaint or make any submission on the issue of damages, it has been impossible to determine either the actual amount of revenue lost by Cablevision and/or the amount of money saved by defendant").

Consistent with prior decisions, this Court is of the view that statutory damages should be calculated by multiplying the number of patrons in the establishment by $100.⁷ In this case, that calculation results in a sum of $900, which is less than the statutory minimum of $1,000. Therefore, this Court recommends awarding statutory damages in the amount of $1,000 against Defendants, jointly and severally. See, e.g., Kingvision Pay-Per-View Ltd. v. Autar, 426 F. Supp. 2d 59, 64 (E.D.N.Y. 2006) (raising damages to the statutory minimum when a "per patron" calculation resulted in a figure below $1,000).

The Court further recommends a statutory enhancement pursuant to § 605(e)(3)(C)(ii), in the amount of $5,000, against Defendants, jointly and severally, because of Defendants' willful violation of the Communications Act and their lack of respect for the law. In the instant case, Defendants had to take affirmative action in order to unlawfully intercept or receive the telecast of the Fight. This affirmative act constitutes willfulness. See Taco Rapido Rest., 988 F. Supp. at 111 ("In order for [defendant] to receive the closed-circuit broadcast, it had to have engaged in some deliberate act, such as using an unauthorized decoder or altering the cable service in some way so as to receive and view the scrambled transmission").

⁷See, e.g., Garden City Boxing Club, Inc. v. Almanzar, 05 Civ. 10004 (RJH) (THK) (S.D.N.Y. March 27, 2008) (Report and Recommendation); Kingvision Pay-Per-View Ltd. v. Salcedo, 06 Civ. 4807 (RLC) (THK) (S.D.N.Y. March 31, 2008) (Report and Recommendation).

Furthermore, Defendants' default constitutes additional evidence of willfulness. See Lokshin, 980 F. Supp. at 114 (citing Fallaci, 568 F. Supp. at 1173); see also Cablevision Sys. New York City Corp. v. Faschitti, No. 94 Civ. 6830 (DC), 1996 WL 48689, at *2-3 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 7, 1996).

IV. Attorneys' Fees and Costs

Plaintiff also seeks attorneys' fees of $874. (See Affidavit of Julie Cohen Lonstein, dated June 21, 2007, ("Lonstein Aff.") ¶ 4.)

Under Section 605, this Court may award "reasonable attorneys' fees to an aggrieved party who prevails." 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(3)(B)(iii). Reasonable attorneys' fees are generally determined by the "lodestar" method, in which the court multiplies the number of hours reasonably spent by an attorney or paralegal assistant by an appropriate hourly rate. See City of Burlington v. Dague, 505 U.S. 557, 559, 112 S. Ct. 2638, 2640 (1992); Cruz v. Local Union No. 3 of the Int'l Bhd. of Elec. Workers, 34 F.3d 1148, 1159 (2d Cir. 1994); Cohen v. W. Haven Bd. of Police Commr's, 638 F.2d 496, 505 (2d Cir. 1980). To determine whether time was reasonably spent, a court must evaluate the tasks and the time documented in counsel's contemporaneous time records in light of its general experience and its specific experience with the case. See N.Y. State Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Carey, 711 F.2d 1136, 1146-48 (2d Cir. 1983); Perishable Food Industry Pension Fund v.

American Banana Co., Inc., No. 01 Civ. 1922 (LMM) (RLE), 2003 WL 21542316 at *5 (S.D.N.Y. July 1, 2003). A reasonable hourly rate is ordinarily determined by the prevailing rates "in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience, and reputation," Reiter v. MTA New York City Transit Authority, 457 F.3d 224, 232 (2d Cir. 2006) (quoting Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 896 n.11, 104 S. Ct. 1541, 1547 n.11 (1984)), and it is permissible for a court to rely upon its own knowledge of private firm hourly rates in deciding what reasonable rates are in the community. See Miele v. N.Y. State Teamsters Conference Pension & Ret. Fund, 831 F.2d 407, 409 (2d Cir. 1987); Wise v. Kelly, No. 05 Civ. 5442 (SAS) (THK), 2008 WL 482399 at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 31, 2008) (Report and Recommendation, adopted on Feb. 21, 2008) . A party seeking an award of attorneys' fees must support its request with contemporaneous time records which show "for each attorney, the date, the hours expended, and the nature of the work done." N.Y. State Ass'n for Retarded Children, 711 F.2d at 1148.

Plaintiff's attorney, Julie Cohen Lonstein ("Lonstein"), of Lonstein Law Office, P.C., has submitted an affidavit in support of the attorneys' fees request, including a breakdown of the time expended by herself and paralegal assistants in pursuing this action, and the costs which were incurred. (See Lonstein Aff. ¶ 4.) The affidavit reflects that a total of 3.12 attorney hours, at an hourly rate of $200, and 2.00 paralegal hours, at an hourly rate of

The number of hours billed by Lonstein is modest and reasonable, as is the hourly rate billed by Lonstein. Lonstein's rate of $200 per hour is not outside the range of rates charged by attorneys in the Southern District of New York and recognized as reasonable by judges in this court. In similar cases involving violations of the Communications Act, Lonstein's applications for attorneys' fees at a $200 hourly rate and with a similar amount of billed hours have been found to be reasonable. See, e.g., Marius, 2007 WL 2351065, at *4; J&J Sports Prods., Inc. v. Mendoza, No. 06 Civ. 6846 (ILG) (CLP), 2008 WL 170199, at *10 (E.D.N.Y. Jan. 16, 2008); Joe Hand Promotions, Inc. v. El Norteno Rest. Corp., No. 06 Civ. 1878 (RJD) (JMA), 2007 WL 2891016, at *5 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 28, 2007). More generally, a $200 hourly rate is well within the range supported by case law. See also Cmtv. Television Sys., 284 F.3d at 437 (affirming award of attorneys' fees, where hourly rates of the most experienced attorney on the case ranged between $240 and $275); Time Warner Cable of N.Y. City v. Sanchez, No. 02 Civ. 5855 (GBD) (FM), 2003 WL 21744089, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. July 8, 2003) (allowing hourly rates ranging between $165 and $240). Similarly, the amount of hours billed and the hourly rate of $75 for work done by paralegal assistants are both reasonable. See Sanchez, 2003 WL 21744089, at *4 (finding reasonable almost nine hours of paralegal work billed at an hourly rate of $85 in a case with similar facts);

El Norteno Rest. Corp., 2007 WL 2891016, at *5 (finding reasonable an hourly rate of $75 for paralegal work). Accordingly, an award of attorneys' fees in the amount of $874 against Defendants, jointly and severally, is appropriate.⁸

Section 605 also permits this Court to award the recovery of full costs. See 47 U.S.C. § 605(e)(3)(B)(iii). Plaintiff seeks an award of costs in the amount of $550 – $350 for filing fees and $200 for service of process fees. (See Lonstein Aff. ¶ 3.) These expenses are properly documented. (See Exhibit A annexed to Lonstein Aff., Service of Process Invoice.) Accordingly, Plaintiff is entitled to costs in the amount of $550.

CONCLUSION

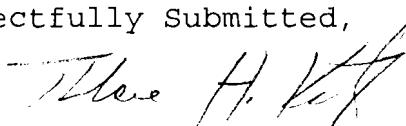

For the reasons set forth above, this Court respectfully recommends that a judgment be entered for Plaintiff awarding: (1) $6,000 in statutory damages; (2) $874 for attorneys' fees; and (3) $550 for costs, against Defendants, jointly and severally, for a total judgment of $7,424.00.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C) and Rule 72 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the parties shall have ten (10) days from service of this report to file written objections. See also Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(a) and (d). Such objections shall be filed with the Clerk
